INTRODUCTION

WHAT IS LOAD SHEDDING?

- When there is not enough electricity available to meet the demand from all Eskom or Municipal customers, it could be necessary to interrupt supply to certain areas. This is called load shedding. It is different from a power outage that could occur for several other reasons.
- It is a last resort to balance electricity supply and demand. Load shedding will only apply when all other options have been exhausted.
- It is an effective way to avoid total collapse of the electricity supply grid (a national black-out) which will have disastrous outcomes for South Africa. If unbalances on the power is not managed this could lead to the risk of collapse of the entire power network. If this occurs, it could take more than a week to restore power to the entire country. By rotating and shedding the load in a planned and controlled manner, the system remains stable.
- Before load-shedding is applied, Eskom makes use of:
 - Gas and hydro options
 - Contracted and voluntary options with certain large customers to reduce their demand.
 - If all these measures have been exhausted and demand still cannot be met, Eskom will proceed with load-shedding.

THE LOAD SHEDDING PROCESS

- Eskom's National Control Centre instructs its Distribution Regional Control Centres, 126 Municipalities and Eskom's key Industrial Customers on the Megawatts to be shed.
- Eskom (Regional Distributor) and Municipalities execute these instructions by switching off individual areas for predetermined times as per published schedules
- The duration of load-shedding will depend on the specific Eskom region or on the Municipality; based on local circumstances.

LOAD SHEDDING ONLY AS A LAST RESORT

- Eskom must continue with the planned maintenance of our Generation plant during this winter. This will enable a sustainable Generation plant going forward.
- This means that the national power system will be particularly strained during the evening peak between 5pm and 9pm in winter, and during any time of the day in the summer months

NRS 048-09

A new Government standard that has been implemented in order to organise the manner by which load shedding is implemented during periods of supply capacity problems and the handling of critical loads.

CRITICAL LOADS

Load that is as far as possible protected from the impact of load shedding or loss of supply in order to either maintain the operational integrity of the power system, or to avoid a cascading impact on public infrastructure.

LOAD SHEDDING STAGES

In order to safe guard the Electrical Network the implementation of NRS 048-09 is imperative. In order to implement this standard - stages have been introduced based on the strain on the national grid to supply capacity.

STAGE 1

This stage is initiated if the reduction is not sufficient to safeguard the National Grid, this is Scheduled Load Scheduling whereby 5% of the load profile of BCMM will be required to be shed for a period of 2 hours.

STAGE 2

This stage is initiated if the reduction is still not sufficient to safeguard the National Grid, this is Scheduled Load Scheduling whereby 10% of the load profile of BCMM will be required to be shed for a period of 2 hours.

STAGE 3

This stage is initiated if the reduction is still not sufficient to safeguard the National Grid, this is Scheduled Load Scheduling whereby 20% of the load profile of BCMM will be required to be shed for a period of 2 hours.

STAGE 4

This stage is initiated if the reduction is still not sufficient to safeguard the National Grid, this is Scheduled Load Scheduling whereby more than 20% of the load profile of BCMM will be required to be shed and this will be decided by Eskom National Control.

HOW IT ALL WORKS

THE NEW SCHEDULE WORKS ON A ROLLING GRID TIMETABLE.

That simply means each block is fixed in terms of the allocated Timetable (Areas in Blocks will remain the same) but the time slot moves.

So you need to establish first which block you fall under then refer to the timetable for an accurate time slot in which you will be affected by Load shedding.

Please look carefully as some suburbs appear twice, however there is a detailed summary below the affected Suburb of the affected areas in that particular Suburb.

BLOCK SYSTEM

Load shedding within BCMM works on a rolling block timetable. The various towns, suburbs and streets have been assigned to various blocks, from blocks 1 to 15. Each block is allocated a time slot to undergo load shedding over a 7 day week period. Please refer to the Block Allocations on page 11 to determine which block your city / suburb / area / street falls under.

STAGE 1 LOAD SHEDDING TIMETABLE

The following timetables have been compiled based on normal conditions on BCMM's electrical network. BCMM reserves the right to make necessary changes as and when required should conditions change.
